RREAL, a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization, is dedicated to making solar energy accessible to communities of all income levels. Their Solar Assistance program provides solar energy systems to low-income families and communities. Tour one of RREAL's newest partnerships in Duluth-the AICHO Community Center. The array at the American Indian Community Housing Organization (AICHO) Gimaajii building has been producing clean energy since it was finished in the late Fall of 2017. A presentation of RREAL's work and organizational structure will follow.

Join us at Hoops Brewing after the meeting for a social/fundraiser to raise money for their Current for Curran project- a solar power installation for a Liberian Hospital. There will be silent and live auction items.
