2017 IEEE Innovation Summit
in Health and Technology

7 September, 2017, 8:00 am – 6:30 pm
Hosted by TACC Texas Advanced Computing Center, Austin

The IEEE Innovation Summit in Health and Technology provides a forum for engineers, clinicians, healthcare providers, industry experts, regulators, municipalities, innovators, researchers and students defining clinical needs and collaboration on technology solutions for present and future healthcare challenges.

A lineup of thought leaders, experts and professionals will present and engage in conversations and share insights on current and future challenges and trends in this area.

Among the speakers:
- Dr. Phil Huang, MD, City of Austin Chief Medical Officer,
- Dr. William Tierney, MD and Chair of Population Health & Professor, Dell Medical School, UT Austin
- Dr. Ted Lehr, Communications & Technology Management, City of Austin
- Dr. John M Uecker, MD Program Director, Dell Medical – General Surgery (Robotics) Residency

The event is hosted by TACC and cost is covered by IEEE USA, IEEE Societies, chapters and supporters: IEEE Communications, IEEE CEDA, IEEE Central Texas, IEEE Standards Association, IEEE Austin chapters: ComSoc & Signal Processing, EMBS, Computer and CEDA; Austin Chamber of Commerce, ACUP, and Westwood HS Health & Science Advisory Board.

For details & registration, visit https://2017-ieee-innovation-summit.eventbrite.com

Be among the first 150 participating in this exciting event.