2. Navigate to Settings > Reading

3. In the section “Front page displays” select the radio button for “A static page” and from the options list select the page “Home” created in step 1.

It is recommended to create a dedicated contact page for your site.

1. Add a new page and title it accordingly.
 2. Provide relevant contact information for the page content
 3. Publish the page
 4. Copy the URL to the page

Add New Page

The site map is linked to from the 404 (page not found) page and is used to help visitors find the page they intended to visit.

1. Add a new page, title it “Sitemap” and leave the content area blank.
2. In the “Page Attributes” section select the “Sitemap” page template.

3. Publish the page.

Menu

The menu for this theme is assigned to the “Primary Menu” location. It will accommodate the menu auto generated by Wordpress or a user defined menu. After a menu is created it must be assigned to the “Primary Menu” location.

Edit Menus Manage Locations

Your theme supports 1 menu. Select which menu you would like to use.

Theme Location	Assigned Menu
Primary Menu	<input type="button" value="Main"/> ▼ Edit Use new menu

Save Changes

Note: The way the menu constructs child items causes the parent item's only function to expand to show the children. This is done for usability when viewed on mobile devices. It's recommended to not create the main menu with child items, as there are page templates that will provide a secondary menu on the left hand side of the page. This hierarchy is handled by assigning a Parent page when adding or editing a page. If one chooses to use child items in the main menu the menu must be created accordingly with this caveat in mind.

Home Page

The home page layout provides multiple options for presenting content. It contains a position to place a content/image slider or a main area of content. The Meta Slider plugin is recommended if slider functionality is desired in this position. Below are three rows with up to three combinations of columns to present in each. Customizer gives the option of toggling the layout options. Each row is made up of 12 columns.
